Willis was shot with a .22 cal. rifle at his home on Old Highway 67 east. He died shortly after in a local hospital.

Regional Fire School Starts Here

The 18th Regional Fire School got off to a fine start here last night although it was a holiday. The school is promoted and carried out through the Department of Fire Service Technology, Southwest Technical Institute, East Camden.

White Murphy is director and instructors are Elmo Anderson, Gene Hendrix and Ralph Scantlin. Training is held monthly during the year but in summer the regional school is held here because Hope is centrally located.

There are representatives from Ashdown, Murfreesboro, Prescott, Mineral Springs, Gurdon, Texarkana and Hope attending. Fire Chief James Cobb expressed appreciation to everyone for helping get the school off to a good start.

U.S. Dollar Indecisive in Europe

LONDON (AP) — The American dollar moved indecisively on foreign exchange markets in Europe today.

On the Paris free market, the dollar rose a fraction to 5.33 or 5.34 francs, up from Monday's close of 5.31 to 5.32 francs. The move equalled a dollar devaluation of about 3.9 per cent. The dollar stood firm on the commercial market at 5.5130 francs to 5.5150.

On the Swiss market at Zurich, the dollar opened slightly lower at 3.9850 to 3.9975 francs, down from Monday's close of 3.99 to 4.00 francs. The level represented a dollar devaluation of 2.3 per cent.

In Frankfurt, it opened unchanged at 3.3890 marks, an effective revaluation of the mark of 7.99 per cent.

At mid-morning in London, the pound sterling was trading for 2.4600 dollars, the same as Monday's close, representing a dollar devaluation of 2.4 per cent.

On the Tokyo market the dollar closed at 338.55 yen, up from Monday's close of 338.20 and equaling a yen revaluation of about 6.33 per cent.

A Shortage of School Buses Creates Problems Throughout the South

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
A shortage of school buses created problems in several cities today as more schools throughout the South opened under court-ordered desegregation rulings.

With the buses the key tool in desegregation plans, the vehicles were put on double duty in such cities as Nashville, Tenn., Columbus, Ga., and Jacksonville, Fla., with extra hours added to the school days of many pupils.

In Norfolk, Va., school openings were delayed further because a private bus company said it would not make enough vehicles available unless it received a rate increase, prohibited under President Nixon's wage-price freeze.

At Nashville, junior and senior high school pupils register under a busing plan which involves 700 routes transporting 49,000 of the approximately 96,000 pupils in the system.

PHNOM PENH, Cambodia (AP) — Terrorists made an unsuccessful bid to kill the U.S. Ambassador to Cambodia, Emory C. Swank, by pushing a bomb-laden bicycle out of an alleyway as he sped past in his car on his way to work, embassy officials reported today.

Swank was unharmed and an embassy spokesman said the ambassador was not aware until several hours after the incident that an assassination attempt had been made.

The riderless bicycle bumped gently against Swank's car as it rolled out into the roadway, the official said.

A Cambodian security guard, Sgt. Yim Sarun, accompanied the ambassador on the half-mile journey from his residence and later sent police back to investigate the bicycle, which was found to have a plastic explosive charge attached to the handlebars, the spokesman said.

He added that the incident occurred around 7:30 a.m. but that the ambassador was not informed of the assassination attempt until midmorning.

The spokesman said the plastic bomb weighed 10 to 20 pounds.

Mandatory Busing Is Protested

PONTIAC, Mich. (AP) — Parents opposed to mandatory integration by school busing marched through Pontiac on Monday and vowed to open private "Freedom Schools" for their children rather than send them to public schools.

Plans for the Freedom Schools were announced during an antibusing rally at Madison Junior High School after the two-mile protest march ended. A crowd of 6,000 to 10,000 persons took part in the march, which was sponsored by the National Action Group.

Elsie Bigger, coordinator of the Freedom Schools plan, said classes would be opened in volunteer space in churches, homes and unused storefronts, and would be taught by accredited teachers.

The teachers would volunteer their services at first without pay and that the schools would operate at least until appeals of the court-ordered school busing plan are settled, Mrs. Bigger said.

She added that the schools would depend on voluntary contributions initially and that they would accept any student, including blacks, unless the pupil "has a history of some behavior problems."

"There are blacks and there are whites who do not want busing," Mrs. Bigger said. "I think there will be offers by members of the black community to support Freedom Schools who do not want their children bused."

The court-ordered busing plan in Pontiac, to begin, today, will affect some 9,000 students out of the district's total school population of 24,000 public school pupils.

Last week a series of explosions occurred at a fenced in lot where the school system keeps its buses. Ten buses were destroyed.

Man Charged With Attempt at Burglary

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Bobby Joe Harrington, 27, of North Little Rock was arrested Monday after officials were tipped he was at a Saline County residence.

Saline County officials arrested Harrington with a bench warrant issued from Pulaski County.

Harrington and James M. Sipes, 31, of North Little Rock have been charged with possession of burglary tools following an alleged burglary attempt at a Little Rock restaurant.

Three Little Rock policemen were fired from the force after they allegedly beat Harrington and Sipes during the arrest.

Harrington and Sipes forfeited bond last Tuesday when they failed to appear in Heber Springs Municipal Court to face minor traffic charges.

Anti-American Agitation in Puerto Rico

By GEORGE ARFELD
Associated Press Writer

SAN JUAN, P.R. (AP) — Puerto Rico's leftist separatists are agitating for a massive anti-American demonstration to coincide with the opening of the national governors' conference in San Juan next Sunday.

The activists are predicting a turnout of 15,000 at a rally and protest march and are counting on hundreds of journalists from the mainland to report back the demonstrators' allegations of colonialism and exploitation by the United States.

"They will seek to have our police overreact," said one island leader. "They all remember what happened to Chicago's image during the Democratic convention" in 1968.

Rumors that 100 U.S.-owned businesses will be sabotaged during the four-day conference have shaken the business community and various business groups have held secret talks to work out precautions.

All police and fire department leaves have been canceled during the conference.

Although independence seekers are believed to number less than 100,000 out of a total island population of 2.7 million, their militant zeal belies their small number. In the last election, separatists failed to poll 3 per cent of the vote, although some separatist groups boycott elections as a matter of policy.

A leaflet handed out by the organizers of the "National Day of Protest" on Sunday says: "There will be newsmen from around the world at the conference and they will carry our protest to all countries."

Authorities say there will be room for reasonable picketing, but they are bracing themselves for intense provocations.

One U.S.-owned plant is closing all but two entrances to its sprawling premises and will allow only personnel with special identification cards to enter the building. Messengers, delivery men and others will have to remain outside.

One businessman said that "although rumors to the effect that 100 industries will be bombed sounds grotesque, we are doing all in our power to safeguard probable targets."

Sporadically over the past months, terrorists belonging to outlawed "Independents"—separatist—gangs have fire-bombed stores owned by Americans and Cubans or with American-sounding names.

Summertime weather is expected to continue in Arkansas for the next few days.

A weak cold front that extends this morning from Southern California to Eastern Montana is expected to move southward, increasing the chance of rain in Northwest Arkansas Wednesday afternoon and Wednesday evening.

Little temperature change is forecast.

High Wednesday should be in the low to mid 90s. Lows tonight are forecast in the mid 60s to mid 70s.

Overnight lows include Fayetteville 69, Harrison 69, Jonesboro 71, Pine Bluff 71, Texarkana 72, El Dorado 68, Memphis 74, Little Rock 69 and Fort Smith 72.

WASHINGTON (AP) — With a high-level Japanese delegation due in town later in the week to discuss trade problems, President Nixon planned to meet today with his top advisers on international economic policy.

No agenda was announced for the meeting, but there was speculation the discussions would center on the upcoming talks.

Among those scheduled to attend today's meeting were Treasury Secretary John B. Connally; Secretary of State William P. Rogers; Defense Secretary Melvin R. Laird; Director George Shultz of the Office of Management and Budget; Chairman Paul McCracken of the President's Council of Economic Advisers; Ambassador Carl J. Gilbert, Nixon's special trade representative; and Ambassador-at-Large David M. Kennedy, former secretary of the Treasury.

Connally and Rogers will be the leading U.S. participants in discussions Thursday and Friday marking the annual U.S.-Japanese meeting of cabinet ministers on trade and economic affairs.

The Japanese ministers are expected to push for repeal of restrictions on the sale of Japanese products in the United States, including a 10-per-cent surtax on imports imposed Aug. 15 by President Nixon as part of a sweeping new policy designed to curb inflation and protect the dollar.

In his Labor Day message Monday, broadcast nationwide on radio, Nixon praised the American competitive spirit and urged work toward "a goal we have rarely been able to achieve in the past 40 years—a new prosperity without war and without inflation."

Sen. William Proxmire, chairman of the Senate-House Economic Committee, suggested over the weekend that the 90-day wage-price-rent freeze announced by President Nixon be followed by wage-price controls based on productivity.

The Wisconsin Democrat proposed creation of a board made up of representatives from organized labor, business and government that would determine productivity rates of major industries and require that wage and price increases be based on those figures.

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Arkansas contributed about $55,000 to the national drive for muscular dystrophy, according to Fire Chief Jack Davis of Little Rock.

The national drive, which was broadcast by KATV in Little Rock, collected about $8 million.

Rock Festival Turns Into Big Brawl

WATSONVILLE, Calif. (AP) — A rock festival erupted Monday night into a brawl among motorcyclists, Mexican-American youths and surfers fighting with knives, chains, clubs and bottles. One cyclist was killed and several other persons were injured.

The outbreak lasted for more than an hour before being broken up by state highway patrolmen, sheriff's deputies and police who sealed off the area where 3,000 youths had been listening to the all-day rock concert Monday.

About 150 persons were rounded up by officers for questioning, but none was immediately booked, authorities said.

Most of the injured were taken to Watsonville Community Hospital, about six miles south of the festival's site in a pasture near a lake. Hospital spokesmen said a motorcyclist identified as Peter Michael Montero, 26, Long Beach, Calif., died of stab wounds. Two other motorcyclists, Bruce Miller, 31, Long Beach, and Jasper Turco, 24, San Jose, Calif., were reported in good condition after surgery.

Authorities said the trouble occurred just as the festival was breaking up.

Witnesses said 19 members of a motorcycle club from San Jose arrived at the previously calm festival and clashed with a group of Mexican-American youths. And the fight was joined by surfers from beaches near Watsonville, about 75 miles south of San Francisco.

It was the second straight day that motorcyclists were involved in violence in California.

The festival crowd, at one time estimated at 5,000, had paid $3 each to attend the festival which began about 7 a.m. Sunday.

Congress Is Scheduled to Return

WASHINGTON (AP) — Congress returns this week after a month's vacation to find its agenda rewritten by President Nixon—his "new American revolution" replaced by his new economic policy.

When the congressional recess began Aug. 6, Nixon was pushing welfare reform and revenue sharing as the centerpiece of the program he outlined in his State of the Union message last January.

But the President, faced with a steadily worsening economy, shifted gears Aug. 15. He called for passage of a tax package, froze wages, prices and rents for 90 days and took action to stabilize the dollar.

And he asked Congress to delay the effective dates of his welfare-reform and revenue-sharing plans to hold down federal spending and allow prompt consideration of his economic program.

Nixon called for repeal of the 7-per-cent excise tax on new automobiles, a speedup in the scheduled $50 increase in individual income-tax exemptions and a 10-per-cent tax credit for business investment.

Although congressional dissent has been widespread, leaders of both parties have pledged prompt consideration of the tax package. The House Ways and Means Committee has scheduled hearings Wednesday, the day Congress returns.

Indications are that a package will be approved, possibly as early as October. But there probably will be changes in the Nixon proposals.

Democratic critics maintain they are weighted too heavily in favor of big business at the expense of individual taxpayers.

Of the programs proposed by Nixon to implement the "new American revolution" he called for in his State of the Union message, welfare reform appears to have the best chance of enactment this session.

It has passed the House and Sen. Russell Long, D-La., chairman of the Senate Finance Committee, said he will resume hearings on it later this month.

The legislation contains broad increases in Social Security benefits as well as the welfare revisions and, Long said, there will be strong pressure for action on the Social Security portion.

Under his "new American revolution," Nixon also had asked for federal government reorganization. However, this has drawn strong opposition both from key Democrats and Republicans and Congress has shown no disposition to deal with it this session.

Americans Move to Aid S. Vietnam

By GEORGE ESPER
Associated Press Writer

SAIGON (AP) — American infantrymen have moved into two forward fire bases to free South Vietnamese troops for a major drive near the Laotian border, military spokesmen reported today.

In another development, two U.S. Air Force F4 fighter-bombers attacked inside North Vietnam in the 56th so-called protective reaction strike this year. The supersonic planes attacked anti-aircraft guns 51 miles north of the demilitarized zone and destroyed two of them after they fired on an unarmed reconnaissance plane, the U.S. Command said. None of the U.S. planes was reported damaged.

U.S. B52 bombers meanwhile launched 15 more strikes in the region around Khe Sanh south of the DMZ to soften up North Vietnamese positions for the new westward push by 12,000 South Vietnamese troops.

But there was no significant contact reported with the enemy, and sources said they did not think the South Vietnamese soldiers would cross the border into Laos.

The U.S. Command said troops of the 101st Airborne Division have moved into Fire Bases Barbara and Ann to temporarily relieve South Vietnamese infantrymen for the operation north and northeast of Khe Sanh.

The command also reported that about 200 American helicopters are supporting the South Vietnamese, along with transport planes.

The objective of the new operation, code-named Lam Son 810, is to cut off North Vietnamese troop and supply movements into South Vietnam's northwestern corner, from Laos to the west and the DMZ to the north.

South Vietnamese troops along the 40-mile-long DMZ have come under heavy rocket and mortar attack for nearly a month, although the shelling has dropped off in the past few days.

U.S. helicopter pilots said the North Vietnamese have built roads and established communications lines inside the southern half of the DMZ, and it appears they are digging in to stay, despite heavy bombardment for the past month by B52 bombers, artillery and naval gunfire.

The Cambodian army announced a new drive on Cambodia's northeastern front about 42 miles from Phnom Penh.

The Cambodian forces are pushing northward along Route 21 into the abandoned French-owned rubber plantations of Bosknor and Chamcar Andong which have served as bases for North Vietnamese and Viet Cong forces for more than a year.

The operation, launched Monday, so far has met no resistance from three enemy regiments believed in the region.

Prison Death Probe Brings No Charge

CUMMINS PRISON FARM, Ark. (AP)—Cummins Prison officials said Monday that the Criminal Investigation Division of the Arkansas State Police had completed its investigation of the stabbing death of a trusty.

Officials said that Terry Strain, 28, was fatally stabbed Saturday as he worked in the prison's dairy barn.

Authorities said Monday that no one had been charged with Strain's death, but that several inmates were being confined in connection with the incident.

Seek to End Violence in Ireland

LONDON (AP) — Prime Ministers Edward Heath of Britain and Jack Lynch of Ireland are meeting again today to try to defuse the violence in Northern Ireland that claimed its 100th victim while they talked Monday.

Political sources noted some signs of progress after the two statesmen conferred for nine hours Monday at Chequers, Heath's country residence outside London, although officials were not optimistic that dramatic solutions would emerge from the conversations.

Lynch told newsmen: "Of course, there is no question of agreement at this stage. We are discussing things. But Mr. Heath and I now know each other's minds better. We have been talking frankly and well."

The first session was described by officials as "relaxed, friendly and business-like."

As the two leaders adjourned their talks for the night, word came that Northern Ireland's two-year death toll climbed to 100 with the shooting of 14-year-old Annette McGavigan in Londonderry's Roman Catholic Bogside quarter.

Annette was licking a lollipop and talking with friends as they sat on a garden wall when a gun battle blazed between British troops and hidden gunmen.

Annette was struck in the head by a bullet. She was given last rites by a Catholic priest as her friends wept in terror.

The British army said its troops shot back only at individual snipers and no one else was in the line of fire during the exchange. But a spokesman did not discount the possibility that a ricocheting military bullet may have hit the girl.

After the shooting, crowds gathered and hurled petrol bombs and stones at troops. One soldier was wounded but the district later was reported quiet.

As Lynch arrived at the Irish Embassy here to spend the night, fighting erupted between police and demonstrators. Police helmets fell to the ground during fist fights as demonstrators charged Lynch's car, shouting "No sellout, Jack. No sellout."

There were counter-cries of "Fascist" as Lynch backed into his car until police fought off the crowd.

Scotland Yard said nine policemen were injured and three demonstrators were arrested. A spokesman for one group picketing the embassy said they were protesting Northern Ireland's interment without trial of more than 200 alleged Irish Republic Army IRA activists.

Officials said that Terry Strain, 28, was fatally stabbed Saturday as he worked in the prison's dairy barn.

Authorities said Monday that no one had been charged with Strain's death, but that several inmates were being confined in connection with the incident.

When the congressional recess began, Nixon was pushing revenue sharing and welfare reform as the centerpiece of his program, but the worsening economy caused him to shift gears and ended any chance of an early adjournment for Congress this year.

UNDATED (AP) — A shortage of school buses created problems in several cities today as more schools throughout the South opened under court-ordered desegregation rulings.

With buses the key tool in desegregation plans, the vehicles were put on double duty in such cities as Nashville, Tenn., Columbus, Ga., and Jacksonville, Fla.

LONDON (AP) — Prime Ministers Edward Heath of Britain and Jack Lynch of Ireland are meeting again today to try to defuse the violence in Northern Ireland.

While they talked yesterday the violence claimed its 100th victim with the shooting of a 14-year-old girl during a gun battle between British troops and hidden gunmen in Londonderry's Roman Catholic Bogside quarter.

JUNEAU, Alaska (AP) — Rescuers recovering bodies from the wreckage of the Alaska Airlines 727 jet which crashed into a mountain Saturday say much of the plane is broken into pieces small enough to hold in one's hand.

The crash, which claimed 111 lives, was the worst single-aircraft disaster in American history.

Leaded Air Ratio Just About Same

WASHINGTON (AP) — The amount of lead in the air of most major cities apparently has not changed significantly in the past 15 years despite a rapid increase in use of leaded gasoline, says the National Research Council.

A summary of the report said there is 20 times as much lead in the air in metropolitan areas as in rural areas "due largely to the combustion and dispersal of lead additives in gasoline."

But it said the average American, even in the cities, "consumes more lead in food and beverages than he inhales from the air."

"The high concentration of lead in the air of central cities constitutes a potential health hazard to young children and certain groups of workers," the summary said, "but poses no identifiable current threat to the general population."

The report was one of a series on atmospheric pollutants being prepared at the request of the Environmental Protection Agency.

The EPA has indicated it plans to ban or limit use of lead additives in gasoline and announced in January that it expects to make its proposals by the end of the year. The proposed regulations presumably would not take effect for several years.

Several gasoline manufacturers already have had-free or low-lead gasolines on the market.

Two Held in Hit-Run Accident

FORT SMITH, Ark. (AP) — The Fort Smith Police were holding two men Monday in connection with the death of Floyd Haney, 50, of Waldron, after they were involved in a hit-and-run accident in the dead man's car.

Sgt. Ray Triplett said that Fort Smith police became suspicious when the two fled Friday after being involved in an accident.

Sheriff D. Gober of Franklin County said a search was launched for Haney and his body was found Sunday in a remote area of the county, five miles north of Branch.

Concerned Vets Clean Cemetery

COLMA, Calif. (AP) — A group of veterans concerned about waist-high weeds that thrived due to a cemetery workers strike spent Labor Day grooming a browned two-acre plot where 900 comrades are buried.

"The grass is now cut and it looks like a fitting memorial to dead servicemen and veterans," said Wallace Levin, one of about 50 members of the Veterans of Foreign Wars from San Francisco, who with their wives and children spent all day working in Olivet Cemetery.

"You couldn't even read the gravestones in the morning, they were so covered with grass," said Levin.

They mowed the grass, removed dead plants and flowers, watered and fertilized.

Two years ago, when Golden Gate National Cemetery reached capacity, Olivet set aside an area with 1,000 gravesites for low-cost military burials.

A stone monument for veterans and a flagpole were erected, and each Sunday a VFW color guard lowered the American flag in brief memorial ceremonies.

"You know, we haven't had a memorial service since Memorial Day, because of the strike," said Donald Ellis, commander of the 550-member VFW Post 1205 in San Francisco.

"We wanted to get services started before the rains and Veterans Day, so we got to work," he said.

Ellis enlisted the permission of the striking Cemetery Workers Union and cemetery officials to go ahead with the cleanup project. He said the VFW services will resume next Sunday afternoon and that the post will continue to maintain the 900 graves.

Since a walkout by 235 greenkeepers and gravediggers June 3, Colma's 13 cemeteries have been covered with weeds and trash. As one-lush lawns turned brown, more than 1,500 bodies have been stored in mortuaries awaiting burial.

the blood of inner-city children "sufficient to cause biochemical changes, although insufficient to produce symptoms of lead poisoning."

Ground breaking ceremonies were held Thursday for Lakewood Mobile Home Park to be located at the old Stephenson's Nursery property east of Hope on Highway 67. Initial plans call for 21 home sites to be completed by mid-October.

Eventual plans call for 70 home sites. The park will feature lake and recreational facilities for use of the mobile home dwellers in the park. Each site will have a concrete patio, sidewalks and paved parking area for two cars.

The streets will have concrete curbs and gutters and asphalt paving. Plans also call for a laundromat to be completed on the property. The Park has received approval of the Arkansas State Health Department.

The owners state that after a feasibility study of the Hope area it was found that there was a demand for a mobile home park of this quality to be built in this area. Mobile and modular homes are the growing area of the construction industry. Eighty-

Holiday Death Toll Now 591

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Traffic accidents across the nation claimed 591 lives during the three-day Labor Day weekend.

The National Safety Council had estimated in advance that 600 to 700 persons might die on streets and highways during the period from 6 p.m. local time Friday to midnight Monday.

The Labor Day weekend traffic death toll last year was 612. The holiday's highest toll since World War II was 688 in 1968.

said they were seeking a youth about 18 who was seen pushing the bicycle out of an alleyway into the path of the ambassador's limousine.

Cambodian police took charge of the investigation. They said the youth, who appeared to be alone, ran off as soon as he pushed the bicycle about 10 feet into the path of the car.

The sources said a pressure-type detonator had been attached to the bomb and it was set to explode on contact with the car.

Swank, 49, and married, entered the diplomatic service in 1946. He has served in Shanghai, Tsingtao, Batavia, Jakarta, Moscow, Bucharest and Vientiane. He is a native of Frederick, Md.

The bomb attack was the fifth aimed at the American Embassy and its members since war erupted here last year.

Last Dec. 1 a bomb blasted the embassy building during the predawn hours, causing extensive damage but injuring no one.

In April, another terrorist bomb that failed to explode was contained in a school bag thrown from a passing motorcycle at an American Embassy car waiting to pick up a passenger.

Simultaneous attacks were made June 1 on a Marine guard residence and quarters for members of the U.S. military equipment delivery team. Two Americans were injured in these attacks.

complete and authoritative discussion of the subject to date. The ISCHD is composed of more than 100 specialists in cardiovascular disease representing 29 leading health organizations.

The commission recommended basic changes in the American diet to help cut down on coronary heart disease in this country. The Doctors' Save-Your-Heart Diet is based upon these findings.

"Cardiovascular diseases, most notably atherosclerosis, constitute the greatest health threat to the developed countries of the modern world. They are responsible for over one-half of the mortality in the United States and almost incalculable disability," wrote Dr. Irving Wright, chairman of the commission.

The facts about the toll these diseases take are well established, he said, but "needed research for the control of these diseases and the development of more effective methods of applying presently available knowledge have been handihealthful food products; and the control of advertising of harmful products; for example, tobacco."

The Doctors' Save-Your-Heart Diet contains many low-cholesterol recipes which can help to reduce the risk of atherosclerosis. This is one of them:

ONE-BOWL LOW-CHOLESTEROL BREAD

7 to 8 cups unsifted flour
2 tablespoons sugar
2 teaspoons salt
1 package active dry yeast
1 tablespoon softened margarine

2½ cups very hot tap water
In a large bowl thoroughly mix 2½ cups flour, sugar, salt, and undissolved active dry yeast. Add softened margarine. Gradually add very hot tap water to dry ingredients and beat 2 minutes at medium speed of electric mixer, scraping bowl occasionally. Add ¾-cup flour or enough flour to make a thick batter. Beat at high speed 2 minutes, scraping bowl occasionally. Stir in enough additional flour to make a soft dough. Turn out onto lightly floured board; knead until smooth and elastic, about 8 to 10 minutes. Place in greased bowl, turning to grease top. Cover; let rise in warm place free from draft, until doubled in bulk, about 1 hour.

Punch dough down; turn out onto lightly floured board. Divide dough in half; shape each half into a loaf. Place in 2 greased 9x5x3-inch loaf pans. Cover; let rise in warm place, free from draft, until doubled in bulk, about 1 hour. Bake in hot (400 degrees) oven about 40 to 45 minutes, or until done. Remove from pans and cool on wire racks. Makes 2 loaves.

Television and Radio

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — If one is a bit of a hypochondriac, a lunch break with Chad Everett gives one the nice, warm feeling of a security blanket.

Everett—about to enter his third CBS season as "Medical Center's" all-around practitioner of medicine and super-surgeon, Dr. Joe Gannon,—looks and acts just the way one wishes the family doctor would. He also uses words such as "aneurism" with the fluency of a man who has spent a lifetime peering at X rays.

Although the operating room scenes occupy only a fraction on any episode's time, Everett prepares for them with the intensity of an athlete training for the Olympics.

He is particularly proud of some fan mail he received from real doctors congratulating him on his skill manipulating a pair of Metzenbaum scissors in an operating room scene.

"They are used to cut blood vessels," the actor explained. "You hold them for cutting between the thumb and the third finger, and then swing them back to free your other fingers for tying off vessels and using sponges. It really took a lot of practice to get the hang of it."

As in other medical series, the sickness and surgery sequences of "Medical Center" are handled cautiously. A committee of a medical association checks out the scripts and there are many technical advisers. Everett prepared to play doctor by spending hours in a hospital. He also took 48 hours of color film showing doctors at work in operating rooms and he looks at this library frequently.

The actor has picked up so much medical knowledge that when his dog recently ripped his ear in a fight, the veterinarian asked Chad if he wanted to help sew the animal up. Everett declined, he said hastily.

Everett said the series will continue to feature contemporary themes, some of which would have been out of TV

TWO OF HOLLYWOOD'S aspiring young stars are French singer-actor Jean-Paul Vignon, who is trying to break into movies or television, and actor William Tepper, whose first acting job was the starring role in "Drive, He Said," the first directorial effort of Jack Nicholson.

THE GENERATION RAP

—by Helen and Sue Bottel

GENERATION RAP BY HELEN AND SUE BOTTEL WHAT PARENTS "SEE" ISN'T ALWAYS WHAT'S THERE

Dear Sue and Helen:

Mom and Dad are nice guys. So why do they get up tight when my boy friend stays to watch the late, late horror show on TV once a week? We just eat and talk and goof around until about 3:00 a.m. They like Tom and they MUST trust him or they wouldn't let us go on all-day picnics.

Tom and I discuss sex frankly and have decided it's good enough to WAIT for Mom knows how I feel. After all, she brought me up to be honest and self-respecting.

But this morning she said, "No more late TV after dates-it keeps us awake!" It isn't the TV-it's bounds a few seasons back—male impotence and artificial insemination. There also is one about a great surgeon in failing health with a "ghost surgeon" who steps in to handle the difficult, delicate parts of his operations.

Dad getting up every 15 minutes for "a drink of water." (Actually to see if his dear daughter is still pure.)

Why do parents get weird ideas that seem to be based more on the clock than on how kids act?

—CURFEWED SUE'S VIEWS: Dear Curfewed:

Seems like parents never outgrow being afraid of the dark—until their daughters get safely married. They should know that if a girl has certain standards, they don't change after midnight and, besides, what could happen during the late, late show (with your folks in the next room) that couldn't happen easier on an all-day picnic?

I think their trust should stretch to 3:00 a.m. on weekends.

—SUE P.S. WITHOUT the 15-minute checks!

HELEN SAYS: Dear Curfewed:

True, trust shouldn't disappear like Cinderella at midnight, but parents are programmed, through early training, to suspect "late alone hours." Back in their well-defined teenhood, certain actions meant certain things and, if a girl stayed up half the night with a boy, goodbye reputation, hello gossip. Ideas jelled in "tradition" aren't easily changed.

Why not try for a 1:30 a.m. compromise - so your father will get a little sleep? —H.

P.S. As long as we're into the tradition thing, here are two more questions on "then" vs. "now."

Dear Helen: Thanks for telling parents that bedrooms nowadays are okay places for boys and girls to talk, play records, etc. Since then my folks have eased up, but the other night Mom came by my door and saw a boy and a girl lying on the bed. He had his arm over her shoulder but they weren't even necking, or real close.

She hit the ceiling. Why? —NO

BIG DEAL

Dear NBD:

...Because back in HER hey-day, B.E.D. was spelled S.E.X., not "Sofa." —HELEN SUE'S VIEWS:

Dear NBD:

Isn't it weird? If your mother had seen the boy and girl lying near each other on the floor, she wouldn't have looked twice.

...Or on the beach or the lawn. Adults really ARE programmed funny sometimes, aren't they? —SUE

Dear Sue:

My boy friend was lying on the couch watching TV. Mom and Dad had the only chairs, so I flopped down beside him, not thinking anything of it.

Dad told me to get up and afterwards Mom said it looked, "Well, you know...too sexy and suggestive or something."

What do you say? —DARLENE

Dear Darlene:

Mom censored what I said first (but she's still laughing). Anyway, even though what THEY see isn't what YOU mean, you'd better watch TV from the floor. A generation brought up on "twin bed" movies isn't ready for teenagers sharing the same couch. —SUE ies linking diet with the nation's highest incidence of heart disease.

NOTE FROM HELEN: Sue's first answer was a classic. Too bad I'm one of "that generation" who knows when she must censor. —H.

Late in 1970, the Inter-Society Commission for Heart Disease issued a report on the subject that is probably the most capped by the lack of adequate resources." Dr. Wright described the three lines of defense in medical care, each important in the control of cardiovascular disease: "It has become increasingly clear that the first line of defense of medical care is the informed patient and his family. If the individual does not understand what he must do to preserve health, and if he is not prepared to take the appropriate steps to obtain this help, all of the world's medical knowledge will be of little value."

The second line of defense is made up of individuals and institutions to whom the patient will first turn for help—the physician, the clinic, the neighborhood health center or the hospital.

The third echelon of defense, he said, is "regrettably in a very early and inadequate stage of development—the identification and control of environmental factors which adversely affect human health: control of the pollutant of air, water and food; the supervision of dietary ingredients in insu-

Kramer Aims Broadside at Lamar Hunt

By WILL GRIMSLEY
AP Special Correspondent
FOREST HILLS, N.Y. (AP) — Jack Kramer, aiming a broadside at millionaire Lamar Hunt, says today one man rule could be the ruin of big time tennis and urged the court game to look to put its house in order.

"It is bad when the world's best players are moved around like pawns on a chess board," the former champion and promoter said in an interview today.

"People ask me would I be willing to be the tennis commissioner—I think Arthur Ashe made such a proposal. I say, 'Commissioner of what?'—tennis is in a sad state. We are on the verge of returning to closed tournament play, losing all the gains we made in the years of battling for open competition."

Kramer is in New York in a dual capacity—as director of the Pepsi Grand Prix, a tournament point system similar to that used in automobile racing and as commentator on the U.S. Open television for CBS.

After a successful tournament career, in which he became first the world's best amateur and then champion of the pros, Kramer turned promoter. He was the first to sign players to $100,000 contracts.

"If tennis is to take advantage of its present wave of popularity—if it is to survive as a big spectator sport—it must make changes," Kramer insisted.

Nevada, which has an average yearly rainfall of 8.8 inches, is the driest state in the Union.

Archer Wins as Snead Blows Chance

By BOB GREEN
Associated Press Golf Writer
WETHERSFIELD, Conn. (AP) — "When I win, it's my short putting that does it," big George Archer said.

"I didn't make any long ones all week, but I didn't miss any short ones. That's what does it."

Archer stroked in one from about eight feet for a birdie on the first hole of the sudden death playoff to beat Lou Graham and J.C. Snead for the title in the $110,000 Greater Hartford Open Golf Tournament Monday.

Snead, who had blown a chance to win it outright when he took a three-putt bogey on the 17th, and Graham both put their second shots on the green on the 391-yard playoff hole. Graham was about 15 feet away, Snead 10 and Archer, the last to hit from the fairway, put his about eight feet from the flag.

Graham and Snead both missed—Snead's just sliding by—and the 6-foot-6 Archer rolled his in.

The trio finished the regulation 72 holes deadlocked at 268, 16 under par, on the 6,568 yard Wethersfield Country Club course. Archer and Graham had final round 66s and Snead took a 67.

The playoff victory was worth $22,000 to Archer, a one-time ranch hand who now has won over $110,000 this season. Graham and the disappointed Snead each picked up $10,175.

Rookie Hubert Green, Jack Ewing, Dave Stockton and Deane Beman tied for fourth two strokes back at 270. Green had a 66 and the other three line play both offensively and defensively. Head coach Frank Broyles said he still has two unsettled offensive positions.

"Ron Revard and Stuart Freeland are still in the thick of things for center, and so are Glen Lowe and Mike Griffin for guard," Broyles said.

HOPE (ARK.) STAR, Printed by Offset had 68s. Dave Hill, tied with Snead for the lead going into the final round, bogeyed the ninth, took a double bogey six on the 10th and never recovered. He finished with a 72 for 273.

It was a three-man race most of the cool, cloudy day, with Graham taking a momentary lead when they made the turn. Then Snead took over and held a one stroke lead when he went to the 215-yard par three 17th hole.

He put his tee shot 50 feet from the pin. He left his first putt 10 feet short and said he was distracted on his second putt when someone in the gallery shouted, "bet two bucks he doesn't make it."

He didn't, dropped back into a tie and set up the playoff.

It was the second victory of the season for the 31-year-old Archer and eighth of his career.

He didn't have a bogey in his final round and managed five birdies.

First Game of Dixie Playoffs

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The Arkansas Travelers will send Jesse Huggins against Amarillo tonight at Amarillo in the first game of the Dixie Association playoffs.

Huggins, a lefthander with a 5-1 record, will face Gary Ryerson, who has a 15-7 record.

The Travelers won the Central Division of the Dixie Association by six games, playing 540 ball. Amarillo captured the Western Division by 5½ games, winning at a .520 clip. In the other playoff game, Charlotte, winner of the Eastern Division, meets Asheville, runnerup in the same division.

The playoff between the Travelers and the Giants moves to Little Rock Wednesday night with Santiago Guzman scheduled to pitch for Arkansas. If a third game is necessary, it will be played Thursday night at Little Rock. In that game, either Jackie Stripling (10-9) or Steve Evans (10-8) will face the Giants.

—Dennis Homan, wide receiver, a three-year veteran from Alabama acquired from the Dallas Cowboys in an off-season trade for Gloster Richardson.

—Willie Mitchell, defensive back, an eight-year man from Tennessee State who was a starter in 1965-68 and has been used on specialty teams since then.

—Mike Adamie, running back, a rookie from Northwestern who holds six Big Ten records and was a No. 5 draft pick.

—Chuck Hixson, quarterback, a rookie who was the NCAA passing champion at Southern Methodist in 1968 and finished second in the nation in 1969.

Elsewhere, the Cincinnati Bengals cut Tommy Smith, the Olympic 200-meter champion in 1968 who had been on the taxi squad for two years and was trying to make the club as a tight end. The Bengals also dropped Chip Bennett, a rookie linebacker, and Gene Trosch, a defensive tackle.

The New Orleans Saints cut rookie guard Larry DiNardo, a standout at Notre Dame, and picked up veteran offensive lineman Remi Prudhomme, cut earlier by Kansas City.

The Saints also dropped running backs Gene Moore and Don McCall. McCall, a fifth-year man from USC, had his best year in 1968 when he gained 637 yards to lead the club in rushing and also caught 26 passes. He has been slowed by injury since then.

The Houston Oilers traded defensive tackle David Rowe to the New England Patriots for offensive lineman Tom Funck. Rowe came to the Oilers in an off-season deal with New Orleans.

The Atlanta Falcons cut six, including veteran wide receiver Jack Clancy, while the Los Angeles Rams dropped a pair, including third-year defensive back Cecil Leonard. Pittsburgh said it had placed eight players on waivers, but refused to divulge their names before today's deadline.

In NFL exhibition play, Atlanta defeated New England 45-35 in Sunday's only game.

Saturday night, Miami trounced Washington 27-10, Buffalo topped Detroit 31-17, Oakland edged San Francisco 34-28, Houston beat Chicago 37-17, Philadelphia trounced New Orleans 34-0, Cincinnati trounced Green Bay 27-24, Denver edged Minnesota 14-7 and Kansas City and St. Louis battled to a 17-17 tie.

2 Kinds of Cuts Felt in Pro Ranks

By ALEX SACHAR
Associated Press Sports Writer
Two kinds of cuts were felt in the pro football world Monday. The first cut was surgical, and it was felt primarily by Sonny Jurgensen—on his left arm, just below the shoulder.

Dr. Don O'Donoghue, a nationally-known bone specialist who has treated numerous athletes, operated on the Washington Redskins' veteran quarterback in Oklahoma City Monday, along with the Redskins team physician, Dr. P. M. Palumbo, Jr.

The operation lasted an hour and a half, and Dr. Palumbo said it "went nicely with very good results."

The 37-year-old Jurgensen fractured the coracoid process—a small bone between his upper arm and shoulder—of his left arm, not his passing arm in a National Football League exhibition game against the Miami Dolphins Saturday.

A Washington spokesman said Jurgensen, the top-ranking quarterback in NFL history, would be out of action at least six weeks, meaning he will miss the final exhibition game and at least the first five regular season contests.

The other kind of cut was more widely felt. It was the kind administered by The Turk, the mythical creature who roams the world of pro football training camps and trims the rosters down to the size decreed by NFL league rules.

The Turk was busy Monday, since all NFL rosters must be down to 44 by 4 p.m. (EDT) today. Some of the teams placed men on waivers Monday, since that would give them a chance to recall the waivers or pick up players from other teams before the deadline.

The biggest cut was made by Coach Hank Stram of the Kansas City Chiefs, who placed 12 men on waivers. Included in this group were:

—Dennis Homan, wide receiver, a three-year veteran from Alabama acquired from the Dallas Cowboys in an off-season trade for Gloster Richardson.

—Willie Mitchell, defensive back, an eight-year man from Tennessee State who was a starter in 1965-68 and has been used on specialty teams since then.

—Mike Adamie, running back, a rookie from Northwestern who holds six Big Ten records and was a No. 5 draft pick.

—Chuck Hixson, quarterback, a rookie who was the NCAA passing champion at Southern Methodist in 1968 and finished second in the nation in 1969.

Elsewhere, the Cincinnati Bengals cut Tommy Smith, the Olympic 200-meter champion in 1968 who had been on the taxi squad for two years and was trying to make the club as a tight end. The Bengals also dropped Chip Bennett, a rookie linebacker, and Gene Trosch, a defensive tackle.

Bears Still Have Same Old Problems

By JERRY LISKA
Associated Press Sports Writer
CHICAGO (AP) — The Chicago Bears this season move away from their traditional Wrigley Field home base, but it's conjectural whether they can move away from old problems, such as lack of running strength and a clear-cut No. 1 quarterback.

The Bears, who finished tied for third—actually tied for last—in the National Football Conference's Central Division last season—this fall will operate in refurbished Soldier Field on Chicago's Lake Front.

A big plus can develop for the Bears if quarterback Jack Concannon and wide receiver Dick Gordon take up where they left off as a dynamic aerial act which ignited a strong 1970 finish.

Last season, towering southpaw Bobby Douglass led off as Coach Jim Dooley's No. 1 quarterback, but it wasn't until Concannon started hitting Gordon consistently that the Bears began putting an offense together.

The result was three victories in the final three games and two defeats by a total margin of only four points—16-13 to the Minnesota Vikings and 21-20 to the Baltimore Colts—plus the NFC receiving title going to Gordon on 71 catches for 1,028 yards.

The Bears wound up with a 68-0 Central section record, tied with the Green Bay Packers behind the Vikings, 12-2, and Detroit Lions, 10-4.

However, the way it is with the Bears' running game is so questionable that Jim Grabowski, cut loose this fall by the Green Bay Packers, and Don Shy, a free agent refugee last season from the New Orleans Saints, might be heavy duty performers.

Not only does heretofore superstar Gale Sayers have yet to prove he has recovered from a second knee operation, making three in all on both knees, but his expected hotshot rookie replacement, Joe Moore, might miss the first month of the season with torn ankle ligaments.

Moore, and 235-pound fullback Jim Harrison, the Bears, Nos. 1 and 2 draft picks, both from Missouri, thus far have failed to produce the offensive adrenaline much needed to bolster 1970's mild ground attack.

Craig Baynham is the only other holdover from last season's ball-carrying corps. Ronnie Bull and Mike Hull were traded to Philadelphia and Washington and Ross Montgomery has retired.

The Bears' other superstar, linebacker Dick Butkus, has recovered much better than Sayers from winter knee surgery, and should again be one of the NFC's top defensive terrors.

Tackle Bill Staley also is recovering from knee surgery and is much needed in a front

Miss Evert Cool Killer at Tennis

By KAROL STONGER
Associated Press Sports Writer
FOREST HILLS, N.Y. (AP) — Chris Evert is a cool killer with compassion who leaves her victims shaking their heads in disbelief.

Her serves are lousy, her two-fisted backhands unorthodox. She seldom comes to the net. She has a tantalizing assortment of drop shots and lobs. She hits her service so gently they call her the "hittless wonder."

And it was the drop shot, as well as a hostile crowd, that was the undoing of fifth-seeded Francoise Durr Monday.

The poker-faced teenager topped the 28-year-old Parisienne 2-6, 6-2, 6-3 in the third round of the U.S. Open Tennis Championships before a partisan Labor Day crowd of 10,300.

Miss Durr, whose career record against the 16-year-old from Fort Lauderdale, Fla. is 9-3, was disgruntled. She declined comment except to say "the crowd was against me."

It was the 45th straight match victory for Chris, who since last March has conquered such greats as Billie Jean King, Julie Heldman, Mary Ann Eisel, Virginia Wade, Helen Gourley and Winnie Shaw.

Miss Durr was the only seeded player ousted in the sixth day of this 12-day classic at the West Side Tennis Club.

No. 2 seed Stan Smith, the Army private first class stationed at Ft. McNair, Va., defeated his longtime friend and practice partner, Tom Leonard of Arcadia, Calif., 6-2, 6-3, 4-6, 6-3.

Tom Okker of The Netherlands, seeded No. 4, easily advanced to the round of 16 with a 6-1, 6-1, 6-1 victory over Toshiro Sakai of Japan. Marti Riesen of Evanston, Ill., ranked fifth here, eliminated Jan Leschly of Denmark 6-2, 4-6, 7-5, 6-3 and Clark Graebner of New York City, No. 7 seed, ran over Jaime Fillol of Chile, 6-3, 6-2, 6-4.

In the women's singles, the top-seeded Mrs. King of Long Beach, Calif., and winner here in 1967, defeated Linda Tuero of Metairie, La., 6-0, 6-2.

Art Pollard finished second, more than a lap back, but earned a hefty $71,286. Gary Bettenhausen was third, Lloyd Ruby fourth and Steve Krisloff fifth.

Great Britain's Peter Gethin, who had never finished in the top six in a Formula race, defeated Ronnie Peterson of Sweden by one-hundredth of a second to win the 42nd Grand Prix of Italy at Monza Sunday.

Tethin's average speed was a record 150.5 m.p.h. George Snider took the $26,347 U.S. Auto Club 100-mile Ted Horn Memorial race for championship cars at the Du Quoin (Ill.) State Fairgrounds Monday.

Jim Sauter, Necedah, Wis., captured the North Star 500-lap race for IMCA late model stock cars Monday at the Minnesota State Fair in St. Paul.

A wet crowd of 100,000 saw Don "Big Daddy" Garlits turn in 6.28 second clock timed speed of 230.17k m.p.h. in the first round of the NHRA National at Indianapolis Raceway Park. Rain finally forced a halt to the program and the rest of the finals have been scheduled for today.

Dick Crawford of Prairie Creek, Ark., won $158 with a 280 total.

George Archer won the top prize of $22,000.

Allison Outduels R. Petty

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Bobby Allison outdueled Richard Petty to win the Southern 500 at Darlington, S.C., his seventh victory in 10 major NASCAR Grand National events.

His Labor Day payoffs of $26,245 raised the Hueytown, Ala. native's earnings for the year to $197,000.

Allison's red-and-gold Mercury led the final 75 miles of the race. He travelled the last 100 miles without a pit stop and was nearly out of gas at the finish. His average speed was a record 131,798 miles per hour.

Mark Donohue, who has won seven of nine Trans-Am races this year, drove his American Motors Javelin to victory in the Wolverine Trans-Am at Michigan International Speedway Monday.

Donohue lapped everybody in field except second place finisher George Follmer to take the $4,000 first prize. Donohue's average time was $6.32 m.p.h.

Joe Leonard earned himself a pile of money Sunday.

Leonard, 37, captured the first prize of $134,436 by winning the California 500 at Ontario Speedway, the world's second richest auto race. The big paycheck raised the San Jose, Calif. veteran's earnings to $219,056 this year, second only to Al Unser's $314,215.

Leonard brought his Samsonite Special up from an 11th place start and took the lead when Unser's Johnny Lightning Special broke down shortly after the 400 mile mark. It was an easy cruise from there to the finish.

His average speed for the 200 laps of the race was 152.354 m.p.h.

Art Pollard finished second, more than a lap back, but earned a hefty $71,286. Gary Bettenhausen was third, Lloyd Ruby fourth and Steve Krisloff fifth.

Pirates Hold Seven Game Lead in East

By HERSCHEL NISSESON
Associated Press Sports Writer

The Pittsburgh Pirates are better off than they were one year ago and the Los Angeles Dodgers are better off than they were one day ago.

As a result of Labor Day activity in the National League, the Pirates hold a seven-game lead in the East Division while the Dodgers trail San Francisco by the same amount in the West.

Pittsburgh swept a doubleheader from the Chicago Cubs 4-1 and 10-5 while Los Angeles trimmed San Francisco 5-2. Elsewhere, St. Louis split with Philadelphia, winning 6-3 and losing 2-1; the New York Mets trounced Montreal 7-0, Houston beat Atlanta 6-4 and Cincinnati nipped San Diego 1-0.

In the American League, Baltimore defeated Cleveland 10-5 before losing 1-0, Detroit blanked Washington 3-0, the New York Yankees took two from Boston 5-3 and 3-0, California topped Oakland 4-2, the Chicago White Sox downed Minnesota 6-3 but dropped the nightcap 10-3 and Kansas City swept Milwaukee 4-3 and 6-4.

Nelson Briles checked the Cubs on three in Pittsburgh's opener, the first complete game by a Pirate hurler in 16 starts, and hot-hitting Rennie Stennett set up two runs with a double and triple.

Gene Alley, Stennett and Cline singled in the third inning of the nightcap, tying the score 2-2, and Roberto Clemente was purposely passed so southpaw Ken Holtzman could face left-swinging Willie Stargell.

Stargell ruined that strategy with his 44th home run of the season and second grand slam. Al Oliver hit a two-run homer in the seventh while Joe Pepitone connected for the skidding Cubs, who dropped into fourth place 12 games back.

A year ago, the Bucs had a two-game lead and went on to win the division by five.

Ron Stone's sixth-inning sacrifice fly gave the Phillies their second game triumph over the Cards after the Redbirds took the opener behind Bob Gibson on the strength of a six-run outburst in the third inning, capped by Joe Hague's three-run homer.

But the big news was a fourth-inning fight in the first game between Philadelphia catcher Tim McCarver and St. Louis outfielder Lou Brock, former teammates on the Cards.

The hard feelings apparently began an inning earlier when McCarver dropped a pop foul in front of the St. Louis dugout and took some needling, which he thought came from Brock.

Brock insisted he didn't get on McCarver, but when he came to bat in the fourth the outfielder had to jump away from two inside pitches from rookie reliever Manny Muniz.

Brock started for the mound—but McCarver intercepted him, saying, "He's only a kid." "Well," answered Brock, "if it happens again I'll fight you."

"I don't go for these talking-showing matches," explained McCarver, who punched Brock twice before the umpires pulled him away and was ejected from the game for his trouble.

Afterwards, both parties were willing to forgive and forget.

Tom Seaver fired a two-hitter, struck out 12 and singled home the first two runs of the game as the Mets trimmed Montreal and nudged past the Cubs into third place. Seaver allowed only Ron Hunt's single in the first inning and Gary Sutherland's double in the fifth in posting his 17th triumph and sixth straight complete game victory. It was the 11th time this season he fanned 10 or more.

Lolich Joins Blue With 23rd Win

By BRUCE LOWITT
Associated Press Sports Writer

"I'm 31 and he's 22," Mickey Lolich commented.

Actually, they're both 23 and 24—Lolich of the Detroit Tigers, and Vida Blue of the Oakland A's have won 23 games apiece and gone the route 24 times, tops in the American League.

Lolich joined Blue Monday, mastering the Washington Senators with a six-hitter for a 3-0 victory—but he may have to resume his pursuit of the A's 22-year-old left-hander, scheduled to take the mound tonight against California.

"Because of his popularity," Lolich said of Blue, "he's bound to win all the awards. You can't give the Most Valuable Player Award to one pitcher and give the Cy Young Award (for the best pitcher) to another. You just can't do it."

Lolich's second-place Tigers picked up half a game to move within 9½ of pennant-bound Baltimore in the American League East as the Orioles split a Labor Day doubleheader with Cleveland, winning 10-5 before the Indians won the nightcap 1-0.

In other AL action, the California Angels beat the A's 4-2 and, in three more holiday twinbills, the New York Yankees swept Boston 5-3 and 3-0, the Chicago White Sox defeated Minnesota 6-3 then lost to the Twins 10-3 and Kansas City swept a pair from Milwaukee, 4-3 and 6-4.

In the National League, Pittsburgh took two from the Chicago Cubs 4-1 and 10-4, St. Louis split with Philadelphia, winning 6-3 then losing 2-1, the New York Mets blanked Montreal 7-0, Houston downed Atlanta 6-4, Los Angeles topped San Francisco 5-2.

"I don't know how many hitters in this league he can get out with his fast ball," Lolich, who mixes his pitches up well, said of Oakland's flamethrowing southpaw.

"I don't have the great fast ball that he has. I have to pitch more. I have to work harder ... I've pitched so much this year, I'll take anything that comes along. I'm not even pitching one inning at a time. I'm pitching one hitter at a time."

He breezed past the Senators while the Tigers gave him the only run he needed in the first inning on Aurelio Rodriguez' triple and Gates Brown's grounder.

Lolich, cruising to his fourth complete game and second in a row, brought home Detroit's second run with a fifth-inning squeeze bunt and the Tigers wrapped it up in the ninth on Bill Freehan's double and Mickey Stanley's triple.

Boog Powell's fourth career grand slam home run highlighted Baltimore's five-run eighth inning in the opener and Andy Etchebarren and Curt Motton added round-trippers, offsetting homers by Cleveland's Ray Fosse and Chris Chambliss.

But Fred Stanley's run-scoring single in the fourth inning of the nightcap was all the Tribe needed as Vince Colbert and Steve Dunning teamed to silence the Orioles on seven hits.

Tony Gonzalez and Roger Repoz stunned Oakland's 15-game winner, Chuck Dobson, with successive two-out homers in the top of the ninth for the Angels.

Ron Swoboda won the Yankees' opener with a two-run pinch single in the eighth inning, then saved it with a spectacular catch in the ninth as he crashed into the right field stands to rob Reggie Smith of a game-tying homer.

They made it a sweep as Horace Clarke snapped a scoreless tie in the eighth with a two-run triple off Red Sox rookie John Curtis. Stan Bahnsen finished with a six-hitter for New York.

Twins rookie Peter Hamr hurlled 4 1-3 innings of no-hit ball and wound up with a seven-hitter while Harmon Killebrew knocked in four runs and Eric Soderholm and Jim Nettles drove in two apiece to gain a split.

In the opener, Bill Melton hit his 28th homer and Steve Kealey combined solid relief pitching and his first major league four-bagger for the White Sox' triumph.

Paul Schaaf and Gail Hopkins each cracked homers for the Royals, who withstood a two-run Brewers rally in the ninth inning of their first game.

Sandy Valdespino, who had a run-scoring double in the opener, highlighted Kansas City's four-run fifth inning in the nightcap with a two-run two-bagger.

HOPE (ARK.) STAR, Printed by Offset
Lolich commented.
Actually, they're both 23 and 24—Lolich of the Detroit Tigers, and Vida Blue of the Oakland A's have won 23 games apiece and gone the route 24 times, tops in the American League.
Lolich joined Blue Monday, mastering the Washington Senators with a six-hitter for a 3-0 victory—but he may have to resume his pursuit of the A's 22-year-old left-hander, scheduled to take the mound tonight against California.
"Because of his popularity," Lolich said of Blue, "he's bound to win all the awards. You can't give the Most Valuable Player Award to one pitcher and give the Cy Young Award (for the best pitcher) to another. You just can't do it."
Lolich's second-place Tigers picked up half a game to move within 9½ of pennant-bound Baltimore in the American League East as the Orioles split a Labor Day doubleheader with Cleveland, winning 10-5 before the Indians won the nightcap 1-0.
In other AL action, the California Angels beat the A's 4-2 and, in three more holiday twinbills, the New York Yankees swept Boston 5-3 and 3-0, the Chicago White Sox defeated Minnesota 6-3 then lost to the Twins 10-3 and Kansas City swept a pair from Milwaukee, 4-3 and 6-4.
In the National League, Pittsburgh took two from the Chicago Cubs 4-1 and 10-4, St. Louis split with Philadelphia, winning 6-3 then losing 2-1, the New York Mets blanked Montreal 7-0, Houston downed Atlanta 6-4, Los Angeles topped San Francisco 5-2.
"I don't know how many hitters in this league he can get out with his fast ball," Lolich, who mixes his pitches up well, said of Oakland's flamethrowing southpaw.
"I don't have the great fast ball that he has. I have to pitch more. I have to work harder ... I've pitched so much this year, I'll take anything that comes along. I'm not even pitching one inning at a time. I'm pitching one hitter at a time."
He breezed past the Senators while the Tigers gave him the only run he needed in the first inning on Aurelio Rodriguez' triple and Gates Brown's grounder.
Lolich, cruising to his fourth complete game and second in a row, brought home Detroit's second run with a fifth-inning squeeze bunt and the Tigers wrapped it up in the ninth on Bill Freehan's double and Mickey Stanley's triple.
Boog Powell's fourth career grand slam home run highlighted Baltimore's five-run eighth inning in the opener and Andy Etchebarren and Curt Motton added round-trippers, offsetting homers by Cleveland's Ray Fosse and Chris Chambliss.
But Fred Stanley's run-scoring single in the fourth inning of the nightcap was all the Tribe needed as Vince Colbert and Steve Dunning teamed to silence the Orioles on seven hits.
Tony Gonzalez and Roger Repoz stunned Oakland's 15-game winner, Chuck Dobson, with successive two-out homers in the top of the ninth for the Angels.
Ron Swoboda won the Yankees' opener with a two-run pinch single in the eighth inning, then saved it with a spectacular catch in the ninth as he crashed into the right field stands to rob Reggie Smith of a game-tying homer.
They made it a sweep as Horace Clarke snapped a scoreless tie in the eighth with a two-run triple off Red Sox rookie John Curtis. Stan Bahnsen finished with a six-hitter for New York.

PRO CHARTS

by MURRAY OLDERMAN

National Conference: Western Division

---LOS ANGELES RAMS

PROSPECTUS --- It'll certainly be different kind of Ram team, with new coach Tommy Prothro's emphasis on big bomb attack. He also shipped off five starters from last year's defensive unit, pride of Allen-led Rams; made four switches on offense. He's got unique ideas about football, and it'll be interesting to see how Ram-vets take to them. Could be an erratic team first year.

Offense

PASSING --- No one will budge Roman Gabriel. But Gabe's not coming off one of his better seasons, and he's had some personal problems which could cut into his concentration. Rating—B-

RUNNING --- Search for outside speed now focuses on Travis Williams, acquired from Packers. But somehow Road Runner never seems to be more than just spot player Willie Ellison. Holdover five-year man, is the ticket to breakaway runs. But he's lax about using it. So more than likely they'll go back to hard-pounding steadies Les Josephson, Larry Smith. Rating—B-

RECEIVING --- Finally got a deep threat to complement Jack Snow in acquiring Lance Rentzel. Little Randy Vataha might be sleeper. Could afford to trade tight end Billy Truax because Bob Klein-Pat Curran duo is plenty protection. Rating—B-

LINE --- A Bob Brown at tackle has to be missed. They're not destitute because Harry Schuh, ex-Raider, fills gap. And the rest of front line is same, sparked by guard Tom Mack, tackle Charley Cowan on left side. Also picked up Joe Taffoni from Browns to provide depth, along with Rich Saul. Rating—B-

Defense

LINEBACKING --- Got rid of all their vets to Washington. The future now rests with kids like Jack Reynolds in middle, top drudge Isiah Robertson as an outside backer. But it's experience Coach Tommy wants, he can always fill in with Marlin McKee, Jim Purnell and John Perene. Rating—C-

SECONDARY --- The Prothro broom swept out the two steadies, Ed Meador (retired), Richie Petitbon. Important switch was Kermit Alexander to strong safety, but now corners are vulnerable. Jimmy Nettles is small, and Clarence Williams gets burned too often. Among the kids, Dave Edmunds has chance to see lots of action. Rating—C-

KICKING --- Pat Studstill goes on forever, both as booter and spare receiver. David Ray, also an emergency end, is unchallenged as placekicker. Rating—B-

Canadian Wins U.S. Amateur Meet

By RALPH BERNSTEIN
Associated Press Sports Writer

WILMINGTON, Del. (AP) — "How far was it?" Gary Cowan was asked.

"About a mile," he replied, breaking into a big grin.

Cowan had a right to smile. The 32-year-old Canadian stroked a 135-yard nine-iron shot into the final hole for an eagle two that gave him the U.S. Amateur Golf Championship Saturday.

Cowan led by one stroke over Eddie Pearce, 19-year-old Wake Forest sophomore, with the last hole to play. Pearce, of Temple Terrace, Fla., had finished the four-day, 72-hole grind at one-under-par 283. He stood at the 18th hole watching Cowan play.

Cowan's drive went into the right rough, the ball running through a sandtrap and landing a yard short of forcing the Kitchener, Ont., insurance broker to chip into the fairway.

Cowan took out a nine iron and hit the ball cleanly. Cowan watched the ball sail over a hill and hit the front of the huge 18th green at the Wilmington Country Club.

"I thought it was going too fast and I said to myself, 'Don't go over the green.' Then people started oohing and aahing and I thought it wasn't even to the pin yet."

Cowan shot 70-71-69-70—280 to record his second U.S. Amateur championship. He won in 1966 in a playoff over Deane Beaman at the Merion, Pa., Golf Club. He is the first to win the title twice since the tournament was switched from match to medal play in 1965. It was the 11th time a foreigner walked off with Uncle Sam's most prestigious amateur golf title.

Marvin "Vinnie" Giles, a three-time runnerup, finished third with a final round 69 for a 284.

McNair Wins Oil Belt Meet

EL DORADO, Ark. (AP) — Tom McNair of Fayetteville won the 46th Annual Oil Belt invitational golf tournament Monday with a total of 214.

Cliff Buck of El Dorado was second with 218 and Ben McCurry of El Dorado finished third at 219.

Senator to Buried in Home Town

WASHINGTON (AP) — The body of former Sen. Bourke B. Hickenlooper will be moved Wednesday from Washington to Cedar Rapids, Iowa, where he will be buried Thursday.

Hickenlooper, 75, was found dead Saturday in Shelter Island, N.Y., at the home of a friend, Henry F. Holtbusen. Death was tentatively attributed to an abnormal dilation of the aorta, the great artery that carries blood from the heart.

The body has been at a Washington funeral home for viewing Monday and today. Services will be held Thursday at First Presbyterian Church in Cedar Rapids with burial at Cedar Memorial Cemetery.

A native of Blockton, Iowa, Hickenlooper entered law practice in 1922 after being graduated from the University of Iowa and Iowa State University. Regarded as a conservative Republican, he was elected as a state representative from Linn County in 1934, serving two terms.

He served as lieutenant governor from 1939 to 1943 and was then elected to succeed Republican George Wilson as governor.

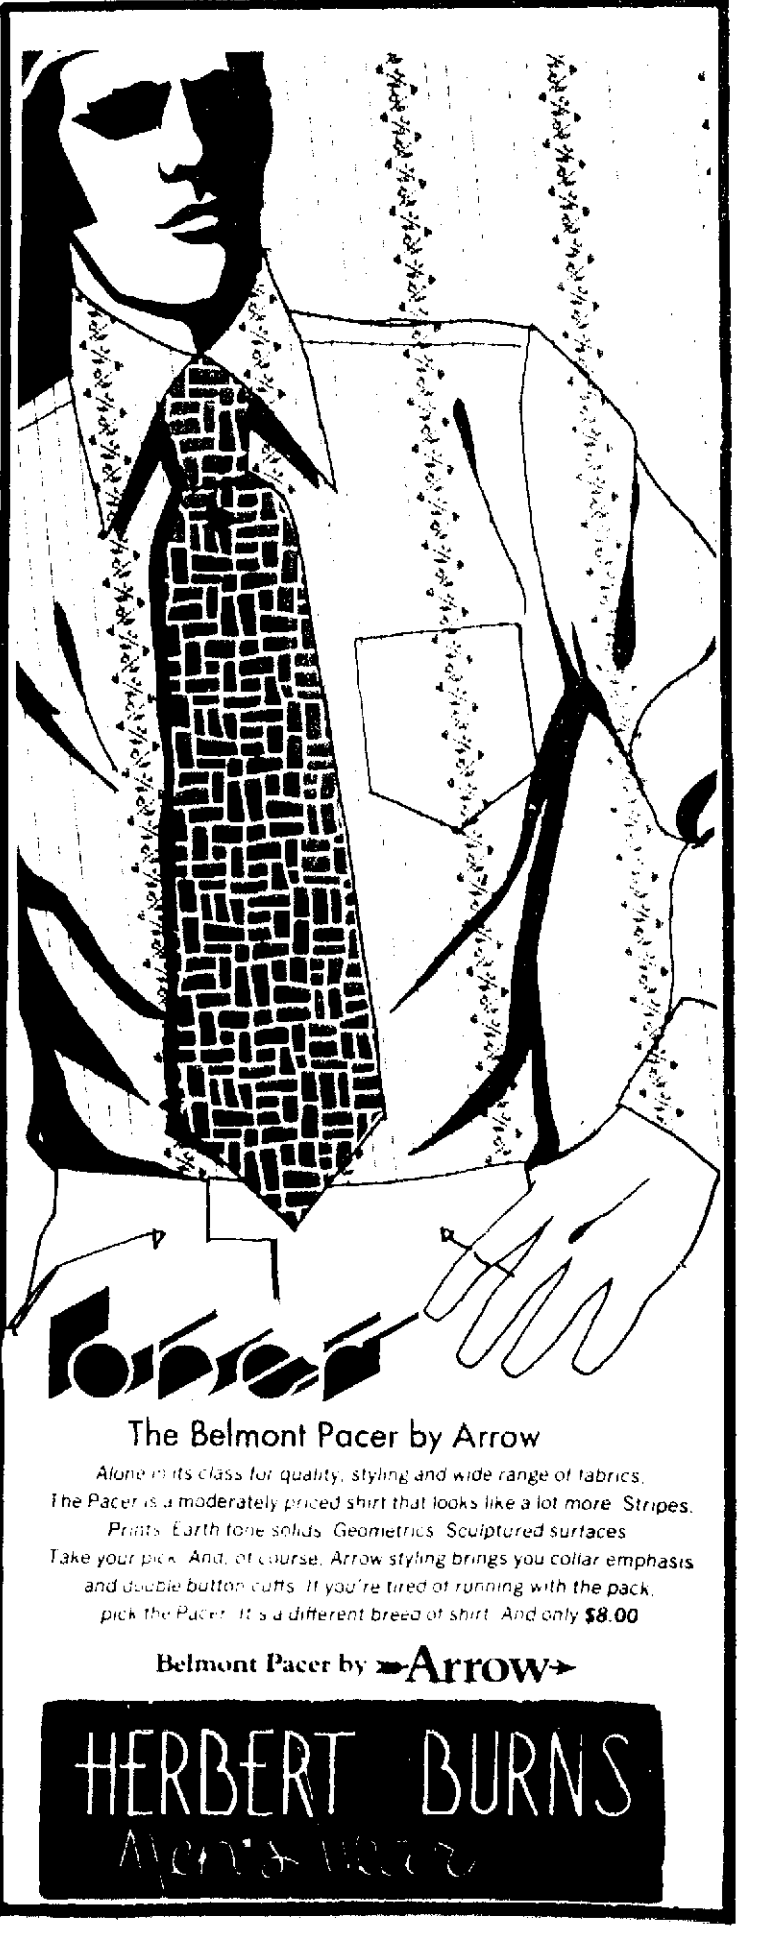

In 1944, Hickenlooper won the Senate seat previously held by Democrat Guy M. Gillette.

He was also a principal author of the Atomic Energy Act of 1954 and was one of only four members of Congress to serve continuously on the Joint Congressional Committee on Atomic Energy from 1946 to 1968.

After his retirement, he was a U.S. representative to the United Nations.

Hickenlooper arrived at Shelter Island on Friday. That evening he complained of severe abdominal pain and retired for the night after being examined by a doctor. He was found dead in the morning.

His wife died last Dec. 17. The former senator's daughter, Jane Oberlin of Des Moines, Iowa, said her father went to Shelter Island to wait until his new apartment in Washington was ready for occupancy.

Limit Raises Make it Easy

Miles who said, "When your partner gives a limit jump raise, you should continue to game with any minimum hand that includes a decent trump suit and has a singleton on the side."

Suppose South were dealer. He would open one spade. JACOBY MODERN bidders sitting North would raise to three (nonforcing) and South would bid on to four. Standard American bidders would have to respond two diamonds. They might reach game or they might not. In any case, they would be getting there by a complicated, roundabout route.

Four spades makes easily. Assuming West continues clubs. South must ruff the third club high. After that, he wraps up 10 tricks.

Tests Needed to Determine Pregnancy

By Lawrence Lamb, M.D.

Dear Dr. Lamb—Could you please tell me if it's normal to skip a period? It's been six weeks since my last one and it usually comes around every five weeks. My boy friend and I almost had relations but stopped. I was taking diet pills for two weeks and stopped the week I was due, in case this has anything to do with it. I have been nervous and uptight because of work.

If it makes any difference, I'm 18 years old. My boy friend thinks we should get married now, but I say it's nothing and we should wait until next year like we planned. I'm a little nervous because he wants to get married and he's scaring me. I don't feel nauseous or anything and I don't have morning sickness. So could it be from the diet pills and my nerves?

Dear Reader—Unless you go to a doctor and find out a little earlier, time will answer your question anyway. If you have a five-week cycle and it's been six weeks since your last period, you are about one week overdue. Many things besides pregnancy can cause a woman to miss a period. Nervousness, dieting and various illnesses are all factors. People seem to expect the reproductive system to function perfectly all the time, demanding more of it than any other organ system (probably because society is uptight about sex). We accept readily that the stomach may not always work perfectly or other organs can have off periods, but not the sex organs.

The reproductive system is very complex. The monthly cycle is the end point of a series of hormonal actions in the body, even dependent upon the small pituitary gland underneath the brain. The mind, and therefore the emotions, can markedly affect the endocrine glands throughout the body and that includes the sex glands. That is why, when you become stimulated by some new, exciting person, your body seems to turn on. The old sex drive suddenly shifts into high gear. You see, the pituitary, or master gland of the body, is directly connected to the brain and markedly influenced by its actions. It is little wonder when a girl misses a period or has one early. The remarkable thing is how well it works.

For early pregnancy, I know of no substitute for an examination, usually a laboratory test, to determine whether or not you are pregnant. For such an important question, it seems like a reasonable course of action.

It might be well to stress, however, that activities that lead to the male having an orgasm at the vaginal opening can result in rare cases in pregnancy. Some think, despite such activities, a girl is still a virgin unless the hymen membrane is ruptured. This depends on your definition of a virgin. Webster's definition varies from an "unmarried woman" to an "absolutely chaste young woman." Concepts differ on how chaste a virgin must be. At a certain point, it is a bit arbitrary.

PERSONAL FINANCE

Not too many years ago, borrowing money was an activity considered pretty close to sin.

The prevailing theory was that if you didn't have the money, you shouldn't be buying anything anyhow. The concept of buying now and paying later hadn't yet been heard of.

Today, of course, the shoe's quite on the other foot. Credit buying is a way of life for many, instead of a simple convenience. Saving up ahead of time so as to be able to buy for cash is uncommon.

But there are times when saving and borrowing should not be opposite ends of the spectrum. There are occasions when even savers ought to borrow, despite their nest egg.

If that strikes you as a dubious proposition, take a look at a few hypothetical examples:

Joe's Problem—Joe wants to buy a boat that costs $2,400. The bank will lend Joe two-thirds of the amount, but expects him to come up with a cash down payment. Joe has got the

Only Small Bits of Plane Found

By TROBERT MOTTRAM
Associated Press Writer
JUNEAU, Alaska (AP) — Smashed to bits on a rain-soaked, wind-beaten mountain-side, the jet airliner is left in pieces small enough to hold in your hand.

"We've got a lot of rain, low clouds and wind, and those people on the hill are taking a beating," an official said of rescuers who will continue today to remove the bodies of 111 victims from the mountain.

"We've got that airplane scattered up and down a hillside for about 1,500 feet," added the official, Patrick Wellington, deputy commissioner of the Alaska Public Safety Department.

By late Monday rescuers had recovered 56 bodies and the flight recorders from the scene where the Alaska Airlines 727 jet crashed Saturday in the nation's worst single-aircraft disaster.

The bodies and debris were scattered throughout three parallel depressions 2,500 feet up 3,500-foot Mt. Chilkat.

As the bodies labeled with marking pencils for identification and airlifted by helicopter to Juneau, where a temporary morgue has been set up in a National Guard armory.

Recovery workers moved through fist-sized chunks of metal, paper and clothing searching for the remains of victims Monday as three private helicopters and one Coast Guard craft moved over the area, ferrying supplies to the rescue party.

National Transportation Safety Board investigators began charting the location of every piece of debris in an attempt to determine the chain of events before and during the crash.

The two recorders found Monday were to be flown to Seattle today. The voice recorder will be read there. The flight recorder will be forwarded to a laboratory in Washington, D.C.

Officials still could give no indication as to what caused the crash.

The airliner was en route from Yakutat and was on its final approach to Juneau Municipal Airport when it hit the ridge about 1,000 feet below the top of the mountain.

Federal Aviation Administration regulations require incoming planes to maintain at least a 6,500-foot altitude at that point.

Talking Cheerleader

Hope, Sept. 8—The world's first talking cheerleader doll will be introduced on September 8 by 43 Arkansas banks, including Citizens National Bank of Hope.

Her name is "Little Soo," and she will "call the Hogs" and root for the Arkansas Razorbacks.

"Little Soo" is a replica of an Arkansas Razorback cheerleader, complete with a cardinal red sweater with an embroidered Razorback "A".

She emits seven Razorback cheers in a rather saucy voice when a string attached to her back is pulled.

Made by the world famous Mattel Company, "Little Soo" is the first talking cheerleader doll anywhere. The dolls, manufactured under exclusive contract, will be available only from participating banks and for only as long as the supply lasts.

"Little Soo" will bring with her a number of items supporting the Arkansas Razorback football team.

Employees at Citizens National Bank will wear celluloid buttons with the inscription, "Little Soo Says Wooo Pig, Soole!"

"Little Soo" gives seven Razorback cheers: "Wooo Pig, Soole!", "Go, Hogs, Go!", "Rip 'Em Up, Razorbacks!", "All The Way, Arkansas!", "Beat Texas!", "Hold 'Em, Hogs Hold 'Em!", and "We Want A Touch-down!"

The doll is available from Citizens National Bank for a cost of $5.95 to any customer who opens or adds $25 to a savings account, or opens a new checking account for $100 or more. It will be given free to anyone who makes a savings deposit of $5,000 or more.

Blacks Named for Appeals Court

By GREGG HERRINGTON
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — Three months after civil-rights leaders fought a conservative South Carolinian's nomination to the nation's highest military court, two Ohio blacks and a white Maryland law professor reportedly are being considered for the post.

The three-judge U.S. Court of Military Appeals has been without its third permanent member since last May when former Michigan Sen. Homer Ferguson's 15-year term ended.

Ferguson will continue as an acting judge on the all-civilian court until President Nixon nominates and the Senate confirms his successor.

Apparently hoping to avoid the behind-the-scenes Senate battle that erupted over the post late in May, the Nixon administration is said to be considering three men more acceptable to civil-rights leaders.

Former Rep. Albert W. Watson, R-S.C., was President Nixon's original choice for the job, according to Sen. Strom Thurmond, R-S.C., and administration sources. But several senators spoke out against Watson's alleged segregationist views and the nomination was never submitted.

Whoever gets the $42,500-a-year job probably will find among his first acts will be considering Lt. William Calley's appeal of his My Lai massacre conviction.

Ceremony, Music Opens JFK Center

WASHINGTON (AP) — Leonard Bernstein, his gray hair ruffled and his face tense, leaned over the plush red velvet balcony of the John F. Kennedy Center for the Performing Arts—totally concentrating on the first public performance of his composition, "Mass."

It was a dress rehearsal—before a sold-out audience of 2200 in the new Opera House—and the energy and enthusiasm Bernstein generates were apparent.

With hands stretched tautly across the railing, he listened straining, smiling, grimacing, gesturing—never idle, never relaxed.

As "Mass" ended with a kiss of peace, which some in the audience licked up and spread to their neighbors, Bernstein seemed almost at prayer—his palms clasped together, fingers upward, almost touching his lips.

Bernstein will have to wait until Thursday morning to learn if the music critics think he's come up with a landmark in the music-drama-dance world to match his "West Side Story" and "On the Town." But the response of the audience was both immediate and exuberant.

For more than a quarter hour after the curtain, the crowd stood, stamped, clapped and yelled bravos.

On stage, Bernstein summoned the conductor, Maurice Peress, and Alvin Ailey, the choreographer.

Among the crowd—and besieged by autograph hunters before the curtain but little noticed afterwards in the groundwell for Bernstein—were Sen. and Mrs. Edward M. Kennedy, brother of the slain president for whom the center is named.

"It was fitting ... fitting," Kennedy said. "It surpasses all expectations."

It was the first audience in the completed Kennedy Center. The rehearsal came on the 13th year and fourth day after President Eisenhower signed legislation to match private donations with federal funds for a national cultural center.

Critics here say it's the biggest cultural day in Washington's 177 years as the seat of government. Monday's dress rehearsal was open to anyone at $5, $10, and $15 prices—and the garb ranged from purple leather hot pants to yellow blue jeans to a mix of long-and-elegant and short-and-fancy dresses. Mrs. Kennedy wore a light turquoise short-sleeved dress which skimmed her knee.

Tonight, the diplomatic corps, governors and members of Congress will attend a formal preview of "Mass." Wednesday is an invitation-only grand opening of the center and official premiere of Bernstein's Mass.

Lightning Jolts Hiker

YOSEMITE, Calif. (AP) — A young hiker, apparently jolted by lightning, survived a fall of almost 200 feet down the back side of Half Dome, a granite monolith in Yosemite National Park, rangers reported.

Steve McRee, 20, of Lake-wood, Calif., was descending a steep 400-foot section of the dome Monday holding on to a fixed steel cable when he fell during an electrical storm, park spokesman Lew Albert said.

McRee's fall was stopped by a clump of boulders.

A helicopter lifted him to a hospital. He suffered bone fractures, cuts and bruises.

Rangers said they were uncertain whether lightning struck the cable itself or the ground near McRee.

—Robert Duncan, 44, a justice on the Ohio State Supreme Court. Duncan, a black, was appointed to that court in 1968 and won election to a six-year term in 1970. He earlier served as chief counsel to Ohio Atty. Gen. William Saxbe, now a Republican senator.

—John W. Kellogg, 51, an 18-year veteran of the Cleveland City Council, and also black. He is vice chairman of the Cuyahoga County Republican Central Committee.

—Edward A. Potts, 46, of Camp Springs, Md. Potts is associate dean of the George Washington University Law School in Washington, D.C.

All three men are known to have the strong endorsement of liberal Republican senators in their respective states.

By law, the vacancy must be filled by a Republican since the two other sitting judges are Democrats.

Number of Preschool Children Drops

By MIKE DOAN
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — The number of preschool children in the United States declined sharply in the 1960s, making zero population growth within this century a distinct possibility, a research team has concluded.

Children under age 5 decreased from more than 20 million in 1960 to about 17 million in 1970, a drop of 15.5 per cent.

The Washington Center for Metropolitan Studies said Monday the decline was by far the largest since record-keeping began in 1850.

"The even more remarkable fact about this unprecedented decrease," the report said, "is that it coincided with one of the largest recorded 10-year increases among young adults in the principal childbearing-age range."

The 15-34 age group increased by 29 per cent, and the number of persons aged 20 through 24 grew by 52 per cent.

Researchers said replacement of the "baby boom" of the 1950s and 1960s by a "baby bust" will have a major impact for decades in social, political and economic terms.

It will "probably take several decades more for the current fertility trend, if continued, to bring stability or decline of the total population," the study says.

"There are so many more young adults than older people that, despite the unprecedented recent decline in childbearing, births still outnumber deaths nearly 2 to 1."

Tut the study says new factors have entered the scene—"the pill" and "a dramatic change in the attitudes ... toward both conventional marriage and large families." There was a dramatic increase in the number of unmarried adults and a slight rise in the average age at marriage, the study said.

The statistics show "the national psychology may be changing, perhaps in response to public education campaigns stressing the dangers inherent in unrestricted population growth," the report said.

The study was financed by the Ford Foundation, the Morris and Gwendolyn Craftz Foundation and the Eugene and Agnes E. Meyer Foundation.

The only other decreases in children under 5 came in the 1920s, down 1 per cent, and the 1930s, down 7.9 per cent.

Mrs. Onassis Now Plans to Visit Center

NEW YORK (AP) — Jacqueline Kennedy Onassis has changed her mind and decided to fly to Washington to attend the opening of the John F. Kennedy Center for the Performing Arts, the Daily News reported today.

The newspaper said in a dispatch from Athens that the widow of the President had made the change at the urging of her husband, Greek shipping tycoon Aristotle Onassis.

Mrs. Onassis, citing "personal and private reasons," said last week she would not accept President Nixon's offer to use the presidential box at the opening.

The Daily News said its information came from informed sources. Nancy Tuckerman, a press spokesman for Mrs. Onassis here, was not immediately available for comment.

Propane Torch: Versatile, Safer

By MR. FIX

Heat, plenty of it and concentrated, is often necessary for repair jobs. The blowtorch is the easy, handy way of getting such heat. Safety depends on careful, sensible handling. The big problem with blowtorches so far as safety goes is handling the fuel.

Even this has become much safer with the growing popularity of the propane torch. While the older gasoline, kerosene and alcohol torches are still around, the propane torch is fast replacing them. The newer torch offers no problem in fueling and is easier to light and keep going.

Gasoline and kerosene torches, in the larger sizes, have pump assemblies to keep them generating. In smaller sizes you can get alcohol and gasoline torches that are self-generating. All need tilling.

The propane torch consists of a burner unit mounted on a metal fuel cylinder smaller than a quart bottle. The cylinder contains propane gas under pressure which has turned it to a liquid. As it is released as a gas it expands 400 times.

Size of flame is controlled with a knob on the burner head. Air mixture is controlled automatically.

Screwing on the burner head automatically opens the tank although the gas doesn't start to flow until you open the valve. A self-sealing valve on the tank closes when you remove the burner head.

Open the valve, strike a match (or use a spark lighter) and you are in business.

Propane torches are sold with a regular blowtorch head that delivers a relatively large flame for heavy work. A pencil burner also is available to provide narrower flame for fine work.

There are accessories to make the torch more versatile. One is a flame spreader that goes over the standard burner head. This provides a wide flame for such work as burning off paint, antiquing furniture.

Soldering tips fit over the burner so that the flame is enclosed in the tip. This gives you a constantly heated soldering iron. Like an electric iron it needs no reheating. Unlike an electric iron you can take it anywhere.

A cutting tip goes on like the soldering tip, makes your torch useful for cutting tile, wood-burning and removing putty.

When using soldering or cutting tips use a small flame. The large flame wastes fuel and shortens the life of the tip. In general, use a small rather than large flame for any work. Adjust carefully for steady burning before starting.

Remove the burner head after every use. This will prevent children from opening the tank. The cylinder remains sealed so long as the burner head is off.
